DIM OUT RULES ARE SUSPENDED

Regulations Not Revoked—
People Asked to Cooperate And Conserve Electricity

We are in receipt of a letter from Colonel John A. Blount of Headquarters District 7, Fourth Service Command, in which he encloses a letter of Major General Wm. Bryden relative to the regulations governing the control of lighting in the Coastal Dimout Area within the States of Florida, Alabama and Mississippi.

The letters of Colonel Blount and Major General Bryden are quoted hereinafter:

Mr. A. G. Favre, Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.
Dear Mr. Favre:

Enclosed is a letter dated 29 Oct. 1943 from Major General William Bryden, Commanding General Fourth Service Command, on the subject: "Suspension of Dimout Regulations."

Particular attention is invited to paragraph 2 of the letter of suspension.

Recommendation is being made to the Boards of Supervisors and Municipal Councils in Jackson, Hancock and Harrison Counties that county and city ordinances supporting the dimout regulations be suspended rather than revoked. It is being recommended also that dimout signs be removed and carefully stored for future use.

Please allow me to express my deep appreciation and commendation to you and the publishers of the "Sea-Coast Echo" for your most valuable assistance in accomplishing compliance with the dimout regulations. Without your aid and assistance it would have been impossible to have kept the public so well informed and to have obtained such splendid cooperation along the coast.

The whole-hearted support by such a large percentage of the population along the Mississippi Coast has been most gratifying in this very important war measure. I am confident that no other section of the United States surpassed Mississippi in effective compliance with the dim-out regulations.

I hope to see you within the next few days.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN A. BLOUNT
Colonel, Infantry
Commanding.

To: The People Within the States of Florida (West of the Apalachicola River, Alabama and Mississippi).
1. Pursuant to an order of the Commanding General, Southern Defense Force, dated 21 October 1943, Memorandum No. 4, this Headquarters—Regulations Governing the Control of Lighting in the Coastal Dimout Area within the States of Florida (West of the Apalachicola River), Alabama and Mississippi, dated 10 December 1942, are hereby suspended effective 0001 CWT 1 November 1943.

2. All concerned are hereby cautioned that the dimout regulations are suspended only. A resumption of the program may be ordered at any time, and, therefore, permanent installations for the control of lighting should not be altered so as to prevent prompt return to present dim-out requirements.

3. It is the opinion of this headquarters that the suspending of the dimout regulations increases the necessity for a voluntary "brownout" program as sponsored by the War Production Board. All are encouraged to cooperate in every possible way in the conserving of electrical energy, as well as other critical resources.

WM. BRYDEN
Major General, U. S. Army
Commanding.

These letters are self-explanatory and we are certain that the people of this territory will be happy to know that the dimout regulations have been temporarily suspended.

News has been received here that in a recent raid over Italy in which the American Mitchells, Bostons and Invaders and R. A. F. ### MRS. CHARLES E. ROE GUEST SPEAKER AT P.T. A. MEETING

Mrs. Charles E. Roe, field worker for the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and who has been in this state for the past three months was guest speaker at the meeting of the Central School P.T. A. held on Tuesday night. The Bay High Orchestra gave several selections and led the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald presented Mrs. C. C. Clark, state president of Mississippi Congress Parent-Teachers who expressed her pleasure at being present and then presented Mrs. Roe.

Mrs. Roe addressed the group on "Home and Family Life Education" and said that this is American Education Week which is sponsored by four national organizations one of which is the P.T. A. She said that three subjects are being stressed in the education of the young—Mathematics, Physics and Chemistry for she said we are on the dawn of an Air Age.

Two things which have impressed in this she said are the Parent Educator movement and the Parent-Teacher movement.

Family life originated with fire and conflict-fire when the cave man discovered fire and because of the fear of wild animals the family sat around the fire after dark through conflict because the cave man took his wife by force. All of this has spent itself and the time when the husband was not a part of the family has been replaced by the husband of today who is a prominent and vital part of family life.

But she continued this close family life has been broken because of the war and will only be resumed at the close of this world conflict and she added "Will our boys and girls be fitted and able to meet the tomorrow which is to be the rebuilding of family life?"

"In the White House Conference is the Children's Charter, a semi-official with 18 points," she continued. Three of these are "For Every Child Spiritual and Moral Training"; "For Every Child Understanding"; "For Every Child a Home." This she said is our responsibility to see that every child has these and more. "It is our responsibility to keep our children in school and to maintain home and school cooperation and community background," Mrs. Roe said.

Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Roe were presented with tassages of yellow, pon pon chrysanthemums and refreshments were served in the home economics of the school by the hospitality committee Mrs. Charles Flink and Mrs. Jules Burg.

Mrs. Roe was the guest of the executive Board of the Central School P.T. A. at a luncheon at three o'clock in the Reed Hotel and she addressed the county teachers at the Central School auditorium.

COUNTY MEETS QUOTA OF $3400.00 IN WAR FUND DRIVE

As the paper goes to press the Civilian Defense Office releases the news that the county had met its quota of $3400.00 at the closing date of the drive. Exact figures are not known and doubtless the quota has been exceeded but the full total has not been released.

Hancock County always does what is expected of it and it is a foregone conclusion that it will go over the top in this as in other drives.

There is a second assistant cashier who will be at the Merchants Bank and Trust Company shortly—in other words there is a new son at the home of the Joe Burrows and we hope he is going to like this old world of ours even if it is a little upset at present. We are wishing for him an era of peace when he reaches manhood.

WAR FUND CHAIRMAN EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

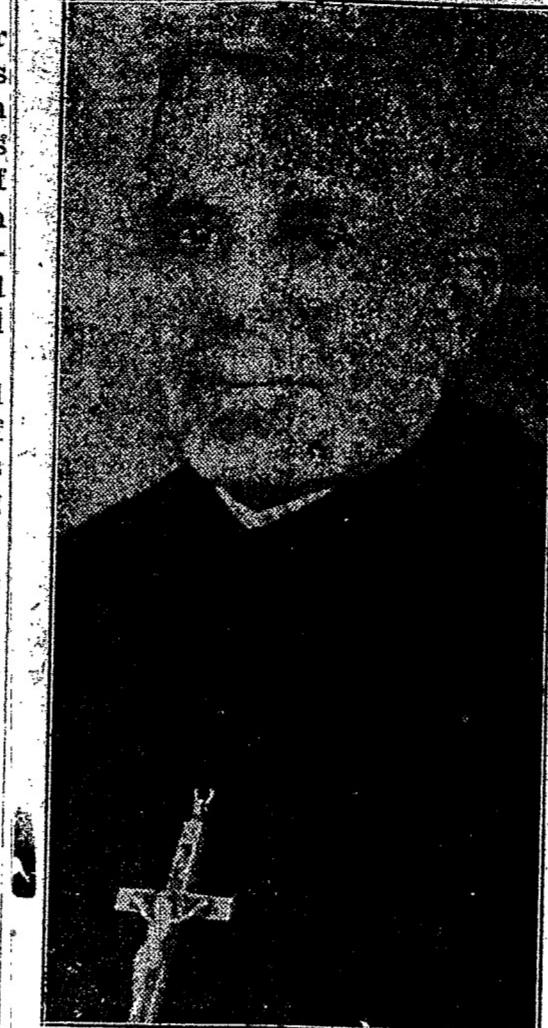

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to the people of Hancock County who aided so faithfully in the National War Fund Drive. We are particularly indebted to the Civilian Defense Office for the splendid co-operation given the War Fund Committee by this organization.

We in Hancock County can point with a feeling of deep pride and satisfaction in that we have never failed to meet a quota that has been assigned to us in the War Effort. For a while it appeared that the quota of the National War Fund Drive would not be met. However, through the concerted effort of the many who volunteered their services and through the splendid response of the people of the county, we are able to say that we are over the top again.

Allow me again to express my thanks and appreciation to those who worked so faithfully, and those who gave so generously have my deepest gratitude.

Rev. Bro. Albertinus, S. C. Superior General Brothers of Sacred Heart Visits

REV. BROTHER ALBERTINUS, S. C.

Rev. Brother Albertinus, S. C., Superior General of the Congregation of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart arrived in Bay St. Louis, Monday, November 8, for a ten-day stay at St. Stanislaus. The primary purpose of the Superior's visitation is to inspect that institution and in general acquaint himself with the spiritual and educational activities of the foundation now in its nineteenth session. The Reverend Superior is at present making a tour of inspection of the Brothers' schools throughout the province of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart in the United States. Last year he accomplished a similar task among the provinces of Canada.

Rev. Brother Albertinus has been on this side of the Atlantic since July 4th, 1942, having arrived on the liner Grishom at that time. After completing his tour of this country he expects to visit our new foundations in Haiti. From there he will most probably sail to Argentina, South America.

Our esteemed visitor is very well known in Bay St. Louis and throughout the States. He came to this country from France in 1903 and was a member of the American province until his election to the office of Assistant Superior General in 1931. During the nine years prior to his elevation to that responsible post he had been Provincial Superior of the American province. He was elected Superior General of the whole congregation in 1937.

Rev. Brother Albertinus is highly respected not only as a renowned educator of outstanding ability but also as a man of deeply religious character whose unselfish devotion to his congregation has gained for him the esteem and admiration of everyone with whom he has come in contact. A most fluent and convincing speaker, he is long remembered by the profound impression he makes on all who have had the pleasure of listening to his instructive lectures or impromptu remarks on special occasions.

We take this opportunity of extending to Rev. Brother Albertinus our sincere welcome to Bay St. Louis. We hope that his sojourn among us will be a most pleasant and edifying one.

J. C. Roland, Jr. Promoted To Captain

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Roland, Sr. have received word from their son, J. C., Jr., that he has been promoted to the rank of Captain in the Quartermaster Corps of the United States Army, effective as of October 17th. We wish to extend our congratulations to him and to his parents. We know that they are really proud of the accomplishments of their son, and the people of Bay St. Louis who know J. C. are indeed happy over his success.

SECOND ASSISTANT CASHIER

There is a second assistant cashier who will be at the Merchants Bank and Trust Company shortly—in other words there is a new son at the home of the Joe Burrows and we hope he is going to like this old world of ours even if it is a little upset at present. ### SANFORD LEVY PURCHASES GUERNSEY HERD

Dairy Most Modern in The County—Visitors Invited

Hancock County is fast becoming one of the best dairying counties in South Mississippi. We have on numerous occasions commented on the interest shown in dairying throughout the county. Recently Mr. Sanford Levy, the owner of "Sandolan" on Jordan River, retired from his law practice in the city of New Orleans and is centering all of his efforts on the improvement of his estate on Jordan River.

Feeling that he could be of some service to his country and to the dairymen of this county, he set out to purchase a herd of registered Guernsey cows. We have a letter from Mr. Levy that may be of interest to our readers, together with a letter from Golden Guernsey, Inc., which are as follows:

"The Sea Coast Echo

GENELE:

The enclosed letter was recently received from Golden Guernsey, Inc., and may be of interest to your readers.

After a great deal of consideration of the various breeds of dairy cattle, I decided that Guernsey Cows would be the best breed of dairy cattle for this section, and after many trips around the Eastern and Middle Western parts of the United States I finally selected and purchased my herd of registered Guernseys in Indiana.

Each cow was picked for her well shaped udders, and high production record. Several of these cows are direct descendants of cows with records of as much as 17,848 lbs. with 928 butterfat. I have also purchased a very fine registered Guernsey Bull, out of Quail Roost Royal and Quail Roost Eminent Bet; this bull is a direct descendant of High Point Maxim, the bull who has produced most probably A. R. cows than any in the world.

As you probably know, my barn is modern and sanitary in every detail, being equipped with the latest model Surge Milking Machines, Jamesway stalls and stanchions and all milk is immediately aerated and refrigerated. Visitors are always welcome, as we are proud of our immediate milking rooms and equipment.

With kind personal regards, I am
Sincerely,
Sanford Levy.

We wish to congratulate the people of Bay St. Louis and vicinity on the fact that you are now making available to them a product such as SANDOLAN GOLDEN GUERNSEY milk.

THE DIVORCE QUESTION

IN its issue of November 4th, the Picayune Item carried the following editorial:

TOO EASY, TOO EASY

"The wholesale rate with which divorce decrees were issued in Pearl River County at the recent session of Chancery Court if kept up, will ruin the country. Marriage contracts are just about binding as an Indian trade. We believe much of this is due to the ease by which married people can become free again. But what are we going to do about it?"

We believe that the editor of the Picayune Item and many others could readily find a solution to the divorce question from the thoughts embodied in the following editorial of Catholic Action of the South in its issue of Thursday, November 4th:

"A young criminal, who was recently sentenced to death for the murder of a young girl, said, on the eve of his execution, when he was about to face his Maker, that the separation and divorce of his parents in early childhood was responsible for his life of crime."

This statement of Judge Veterans Levy, of the New Orleans juvenile court, should prod us into a little more thinking about the serious menaces of divorce, and more so, when we consider the further statement of the judge: 'We don't contend that all children of broken homes will become murderers or delinquents but we do know that a very high percentage of all delinquent children do come from broken homes.'

There is cause for anxiety, genuine concern, if those statements, and the news from the nation's capital this week doesn't assuage it when we learn that the United States District Court there is granting an unprecedented number of divorces, in fact, at the rate of 30 cases a day. Three judges of the court have been handling divorce cases almost exclusively for several months. Other large cities perhaps don't have such a shameful record, but they are not far behind, and that includes our own section.

The Catholic Church has been warning consistently against the menace that easy divorce presents to the nation, as the greatest undermining force, since it attacks the family directly. The Episcopalians recently declined to alter their church regulations on remarriage after divorce. It is a pity that other denominations don't interest themselves in such a serious question as the sacredness and binding nature of the marriage ties. They would be rendering this nation a real service."

ARMISTICE DAY, 1943

AS the nation honors its soldier dead, especially those who died in the first World War, let no American regard their sacrifice in vain.

Brave men can do no more than lay down their lives for their country, which represents their people, and there is no justification whatever for the thought that the present war proves that the heroic dead wasted their lives.

The men who fought the war of 1917-18 successfully prevented the defeat of the United States. They saved their generation from the evils of a Germanic victory, the nature of which is apparent to those who have ever read the treaty of Brest-Litovsk.

The troubles that beset the world, after their success, were not of their making. The fact that foolish men, in a foolish world, have not escaped another war is no reflection upon the heroes who died to defend democratic institutions and American freedom twenty-five years ago.

We are tired of the nonsense about losing the last war. We did not lose it. We won it decisively, magnificently. Those who fought its battle have a right to be proud of their contribution and to revere the memory of departed comrades.

A nation owes its continued existence to the sacrifice of those who suffered and died on the battlefields of France, and elsewhere, in the first World War. It should not forget the debt nor cease to honor its faithful sons.

CHRISTMAS CARDS FOR SERVICE MEN

JUST a reminder: Christmas cards to soldiers overseas should be mailed at once and the War Department assures us that they will reach the most remote Army Post Offices by December 25th.

This is one way in which people at home can remind soldiers and sailors that they have not been forgotten. Make it your business to send Christmas cards to service men overseas.

1943 is fast drawing to a close and resolution enthusiasts can dust off the usual list of intentions for use in 1944.

Frankly, we cannot get up much steam over the football results this season; there are so many fast plays across the oceans.

Anything can happen in the war, including a sudden collapse of Germany but we don't expect such a nice Christmas present.

As a nation, and as individuals, we have much to be thankful for, despite the war and the minor discomforts of the present emergency.

If the bombing of Germany doesn't win the war, when it is backed by the fighting of the Red Army, it can be assumed that no aerial offensive can win a war.

Law and order are the great gifts that the United Nations can present to the world; this will permit all peoples to work out their destiny without fear and in accordance with their deserts.

WPB AIDE APPEALS FOR MARKED GAINS
IN TIMBER OUTPUT

War not merely calls for but demands steadily-increasing production of forest products, G. M. Harrison, War Production Board lumber advisor, declared this week in urging timber operators and sawmill men to "throw every resource into the production fight."

"We are falling far short," he asserted, "of meeting actual military and essential civilian lumber requirements for this year, and the nation's stockpile is growing dangerously small. It is imperative that every available facility be enlisted in the battle for greater production of forest products, and it must be done at once."

To achieve this end, and to seek resumption of operation by hundreds of small sawmills now shut down, the lumber advisor urged experienced timber operators and sawmill men to make full use of the joint WPB-U. S. Forest Service Timber Production War Project. The TPWP program is set up, he explained, to coordinate the efforts of all agencies toward boosting timber output.

As an example of the work being done by the TPWP program, the lumber advisor cited the case of a small sawmill operator whose work has been curtailed for lack of a truck. Being unfamiliar with the procedure for applying for a replacement, the operator sought advice of a forester, who helped him fill out the proper form and saw that it was filed in the proper place. The replacement was obtained quickly, and operations have been restored to normal.

In matters of obtaining deferment of key workers, securing labor to make up shortages, the finding of suitable stumpage and ultimate markets for it, and in the solution of other problems, the TPWP program is serving to spur timber production.

The lumber advisor, while calling for a sharp increase in output, urged timber owners to call on him or any trained forester regarding selective cutting and marketing prospects before cutting. Approved practices he said, will permit the forest's maximum contribution to the war and at the same time maintain woodlands in good growing condition.

TO HELP?

Here's One Thing

"I've war duties, yes—and war has made the task of homemaking and supplying the vital community needs more and more difficult. But, I want to help speed victory by every day and every moment possible. What more can I do to help?"

Uncle Sam has asked the national conservation of transportation, fuel, manpower, equipment, and critical materials. You help save ALL of these when you avoid the waste of electricity. There is no shortage of electricity and it is our business and our pleasure to serve your electrical needs but in this hour of our country's call the electrical industry is responding with the patriotism and enthusiasm which it has constantly exerted to help shorten the war. So we ask you seriously and earnestly not to waste electricity. It is one more thing you can do to help.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SAVING ELECTRICITY

AT HOME. Don't leave lights on when they are not needed. Turn the radio off when you are not actually listening to it. Open the refrigerator door as few times as possible. Don't leave toaster, iron, percolator on longer than necessary, and see that cords and plugs are kept in good condition. Don't waste hot water from your electric heater.

DUBARRY WAS A LADY

Starting 2:30 P. M. Sunday
And 7:00 P. M. Monday

At Regular Prices

Red Skelton, Lucille Ball and Gene Kelly head the all-star cast of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's musical extravaganza; filmed in gorgeous Technicolor, to play at the Ortte Theatre, Sunday and Monday.

The film, based on the famed Broadway hit of a few seasons ago, boasts a brimming quota of hit tunes, including Cole Porter's lifting "Do I Love You?" and the novelty tune featured in the finale, "Friendship." Also in the film are several new songs. Red Skelton sings the hilarious "Madame, I Like Your Crepe Suzettes", and breezes his way through a bevy of beautiful Du Barry girls in the "I Love an Esquire Girl" sequence which culminates in Lana Turner's wink.

He Is Terribly in Love

Red plays a faintly dim-witted hat-check boy terribly in love with the glamorous night club entertainer, May Daly, otherwise known as Lucille Ball. Another devoted swain is poor but talented Gene Kelly. Although May prefers song-writer Gene to her current playboy she is determined to marry only for money.

When Red wins the sweepstakes she agrees to marry him for his money. At their engagement celebration, Red accidentally drinks a mickey and while asleep dreams he is Louis XV and May his Mme. Du Barry. But contrary to history's teachings, Du Barry is more interested in the mysterious plotter Black Arrow, played by Gene Kelly, than the real redhead.

Then Comes the Dawn

When he revives, Red realizes money is not everything and Miss Ball and Kelly have learned their lesson too. Everybody is happy and the entire cast join in hilarious "Friendship" finale.

Tommy Dorsey's band is featured and he plays several zippy hit tunes. Virginia O'Brien, deadpan singer turns in another rave performance with her rendition of "Salme," a mock strip tease number.

Theatre opens Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY
"DESTROYER"

In the screen a story of a salty Navy man's faith, pride in his ship, and his supreme confidence she will weather all storms and fight her way to victory no matter what the odds.

Produced by Luis F. Edelman and directed by William Seiter, "Destroyer" rings as true as the steel of her keel because of admirable casting, fine directing, and the fact that the film is not overplayed or overdrummatized.

Edward G. Robinson faithfully portrays Steve Boleslavski, old Navy man who returns to sea when he finds his old shipmate, Regis Toomey, is to command the new John Paul Jones.

Robinson's handling of the role is as salty as a seaman could wish and Toomey as the skipper is so Navy it's hard to believe he hasn't sailed and fought on destroyers. Both fit their roles as smoothly as a well-greased torpedo sliding home in its tube. Glenn Ford, as chief bo'sun's mate, who succeeds Robinson when he makes a serious misstep on the shaken-down cruise, does a fine job as a cocky new Navy man, finally working arm in arm with his shipmate to save the destroyer and help her defeat a Jap submarine after she has driven off a Jap aerial attack. He also wins the girl, Marguerite Chapman, who, as Boleslavski's
